

Military Impacted Schools Association

“Resources for Working with Military Families Workshop”

February 24-25, 2010
Joint Base Meyer-Henderson Hall
(Washington, DC area)

Location: Fort Myer
Spates Hall Community Club, Building 407

Cost: Free (all materials provided)

Credit: 2 Continuing Education Units awarded by MISA
(participants must attend both days to receive CEUs)

The “Resources for Working with Military Families Workshop” was developed to assist educators in supporting military families through transition and deployment. Educators will walk away with a notebook filled with basic information on the military, maps for the classroom, tip sheets, guidelines and studies on connectedness, building resilience, dealing with tragedy, promising practices, resources, etc. The workshop will focus on connecting military families to the school/community, building resilience in children, providing resources to assist educators in helping military families.

Directions to Spates Hall Community Club

Enter through the Hatfield Gate. Once you have gone through the gate and the check point, turn right; go to the stop sign and turn left; go pass the Chapel (on the right) and the PX and bank (on the left); the next building on the left is the Spates Hall Community Club.
